LIMITED HOURS AT GAAR OFFICE: Starting next week, we will be preparing for new flooring at the office. We will be moving everything from the floors to pods on the parking lot; removing old flooring; installing new flooring and then moving everything back into the office. We will probably have limited time in the office for at least the next two weeks. When teleworking, we will still be checking voice mail messages and responding to emails as quickly as possible. We appreciate your patience as we work through this transition.
